Malls can collect parking fees

MCC to abide by High Court Stay

Part-owner of B.M. Habitat Mall Deepak Lulla addressing a press conference at Pathrakarthara Bhavan here this morning. Also seen is C.P. Medappa, Manager, Mall of Mysore.

Mysuru, May 29 (RK&NNN)- Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) had announced on Nov. 27, 2017 that it had taken a decision to prohibit the Mall owners in the city from collecting parking fees for two and four-wheelers. This order was also implemented accordingly and the Malls stopped collecting the fees.

Meanwhile, the Mall owners tried to meet the MCC Commissioner to discuss the parking issue but failed to do so as the Commissioner was unavailable.

With no other option, the Mall owners were forced to file a writ petition in the High Court of Karnataka on Jan.16, 2018, following which the High Court stayed the MCC Commissioner's Order for free parking, said Deepak Lulla, joint owner of the B.M. Habitat Mall.

He was addressing a press conference at the Pathrakarthara Bhavan here this morning and said that once the matter was heard by the High Court from both sides, the HC stayed the order of the Commissioner on April 13, 2018.

"The practice of charging a fee for parking is prevailing in all Malls, including the city of Bengaluru and other parts of the country," he said and added, "Earlier when the parking fee was not charged, many people working in places like Madikeri, K.R. Nagar, Hunsur and K.R. Pet used to park their vehicles in our Mall, which in turn led to shortage of space for the regular customers."

Lulla further said that "The main reason why parking fee is collected is because it covers the cost of maintenance, taxes, power charges and manpower costs. We also have to pay property tax and 18 percent GST. However, the notice that the MCC suddenly served on us last November was quite shocking. And it had also given a press release that it has no knowledge of the stay order passed by the High Court, even though our office handed a copy of the Court order to the Assistant Commissioner Zone-4."

It also maintained that the negotiations on officers demands would be restricted up to scale III officers only.

Meanwhile, a bank official in city confirmed that there would be no transactions in the banks on May 30 and 31 due to the Nationwide strike and added that if there are any changes in the strike, it would be known only in the evening.

Mining wealth from waste

The nation, after responding splendidly to the clarion call for sweeping the dust as it were and creating a clean country by taking to the humble broom, has lately got immersed in dirty politics for sweeping which there is no broom yet designed. To say that pondering over the issue of cleaning the latter dirt is a waste of time is to say the obvious, even as it is making the floor, read the land, only dirtier. So, let us return to the issues of waste, the term with its conventional synonyms namely dirt, garbage, residue. While the mass of garbage has the spotlight turned on the unwanted stuff currently in a magnitude like never before anywhere in the world, its physical dimension has begun to be expressed as tonnes in astronomical figures, particularly in respect of urban spaces, without making any impression on the residents merrily contributing their mite to the expanding mass. Dailies have carried on occasions in the past figures of 450 tonnes of waste generated daily in Mysuru which has made no difference to the city's garbage scene. The civic body of the city has fought only a losing battle on garbage, thanks to most of its residents not giving up their old habit of littering.

Connecting between the steady rise in the diverse wastes, simplified as dry and wet, hazardous and harmless biodegradable and non-biodegradable, with the fast-changing lifestyle of people in the cross-section of society, particularly the nouveau riche of present times, is not difficult to notice. Discarded electronic devices, unserviceable automobiles, debris of demolished buildings and so on, not to forget the ubiquitous plastic after use, figuring in the garbage mass are new entrants to the problem created by ourselves.

There seems to be only two options available at present to score a win in the battle against garbage, already past gargantuan proportions everywhere. One option is to keep the mass in check by drastically reducing consumerism. The second option is to invent technology of zero waste as it were, which sounds utopian. The now-slowed-down-action in the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan may or may not pick up the required pace and fervour in days ahead, but there is no option of giving up the mission, except to explore ways and means of exhorting the land's people at large to take active part in the effort 24x7. They have more toilets now than before, being spared the embarrassment of open defecation, but the question of accessing water in matching quantity still looms large.

A report originating from Jharkhand State's Latehar district spelling out the enlarged economic returns from the Swachh Bharat Mission, namely significant reduction in incidents of diarrhoea, malaria, school drop-outs as well as improved attendance in schools, is an eye-opener to the rest of the country. However, the merit of the aforementioned option cannot be exaggerated.

VOICE OF THE READER

Respect traffic laws for safe motoring

Sir,

This is with reference to the recent news item in SOM titled Helmetless rider trying to escape from Police injured. It is time we citizens understood that respecting traffic laws is our DUTY and BELIEVE that they are made keeping the safety of us motorists in mind and not to trouble us.

We are all witness to unruly behaviour and disrespect shown by young and old alike to traffic rules and laws like jumping signals, driving into the zebra crossing making it inconvenient for pedestrians, driving on footpath to avoid red signal waiting and so on.

Riding in threes is so common that an outsider would think it's a rule to travel in threes on two-wheelers! Three people riding without helmet, overtaking from the left, changing lanes without indicating are experienced by one and all.

Riding at high speed on the wrong side of the road with the light ON is another offence that is committed boldly without a care by many. Even with the help of technology Police are unable to drive road discipline into the minds of motorists.

Fear of getting caught should come when one is leaving the house without a helmet on, not on seeing the cops.

Vehicle owners, parents or authorities should take care to check if the person using the vehicle is responsible and respects laws before allowing the vehicle to be used.

Parents who lovingly buy children whichever vehicle their ward demands should also ensure that the child knows the dangers of an accident if rules are not followed. They should also instil a sense of basic honesty in the children to pay up the fine and not repeat the offence again instead of escaping from punishment.

We see elders themselves making sudden U-Turns in heavy traffic and almost crashing into other vehicles to escape being caught; so how do we blame the youngsters, having such role models for them to follow?

How many elders are selective about the vehicles they buy to teenagers? Why do we often see teenagers driving very powerful bikes way too big and powerful for their age?

What is the role played and responsibility of elders in such tragic incidents that brings pain and causes loss of young lives or leaves them maimed for life?

It's time we think about our duties and responsibilities on road usage and change our adamant nature of blatantly breaking laws just to test the patience of law enforcing agencies.

Perhaps if every parent/spouse/sibling insists that their loved one leaves home with necessary safety gear and documents required for motoring we could minimise such tragedies.

Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy meets Prime Minister Narendra Modi

New Delhi, May 29- "Chief Minister of Karnataka Kumaraswamy called on Prime Minister," the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) said in tweet attaching pictures of the two leaders meeting.

Five days after being sworn in as Karnataka CM, H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) yesterday called on PM Narendra Modi.

This was Kumaraswamy's first meeting with Modi since taking over power in the State after his Janata Dal-Secular (JD-S) party formed the Government in alliance with the Congress.

Kumaraswamy is in Delhi to meet Modi and other Union Ministers to seek financial assistance for farm loan waiver — a "priority" for his Government.

Speaking to reporters in the national capital after meeting PM Modi, Kumaraswamy said: "I have clearly said that I will waive farm loans. I had promised during election that I will do it in 24 hours. That is true. At least you should give time to breathe. Today, I have limitations". "If I don't do it, have clearly said that I will retire from politics and I will resign as Chief Minister. Why cannot you wait for some time?" he questioned reporters.

"The guidelines to waive farm loans have been kept ready. They will be shared before the public on Wednesday in Bengaluru," he told reporters.

HDK also discussed the issue of shortage of coal for the State's Thermal Power Plants. He said that he had sought cooperation of the Centre for the development of the State.

"I discussed current problems especially shortage of coal for Three Thermal Plants at Raichur, Yaramaras and Ballari in the State. I requested him to ensure sufficient coal supply to these Thermal Power Plants. The current availability of coal in the State is sufficient to operate the Plants for 15 days," he said.

He said, besides coal, several other matters were also discussed. "The Prime Minister gave suggestions from his political experience as CM and PM on how to run the Government," Kumaraswamy said.

"It is customary for the new Chief Minister of any State to call on the Prime Minister, soon after assuming office, in our federal set up," the Chief Minister told reporters on Sunday.

Meanwhile, Rahul Gandhi and Sonia Gandhi left for the latter's medical check-up abroad. The trip has further delayed portfolio allocation in Karnataka as leaders of both parties are yet to strike a deal.

'All confusions in Cabinet formation will be resolved'

New Delhi, May 29- After meeting PM Narendra Modi yesterday, Karnataka CM H.D. Kumaraswamy met top Congress leaders and discussed Cabinet formation and portfolio sharing.

At the meeting held at the residence of Senior Congress leader Ghulam Nabi Azad, Kumaraswamy reportedly said that the JD(S) was ready to give up its claim on key portfolios including Irrigation and Energy but would not make a compromise on Finance portfolio.

The meeting was attended by Senior Congress leaders Mallikarjun Kharge and Ahmed Patel, former CM Siddharamaiah, Deputy CM Dr. G. Parameshwara and Senior leader D.K. Shivakumar during the course of the meeting.

The Congress, which gave unconditional support to the JD(S), reportedly demanded key portfolios of Finance, Home and Industries under which the Department of Mining comes, besides Power, Irrigation, Public Works, Excise, Bengaluru Development and Primary Education.

Azad also held a separate meeting with Karnataka Congress leaders in the evening and reportedly communicated the JD(S) view to Congress President Rahul Gandhi, who is on a tour of USA.

After the meeting, the Congress claimed that the 'issues' would be resolved soon, while the JD(S) said that the talks between the two allies were inconclusive and would resume after a day or two.

Will unveil plan on loan waiver tomorrow: HDK

New Delhi, May 29- Under pressure from the BJP to fulfil his promise, Karnataka CM H.D. Kumaraswamy yesterday said here that he will make the announcement on farm loan waiver on Wednesday in Bengaluru.

Speaking to press persons here yesterday, he said: "I will put forward my Government's plans on farm loan waiver in very clear terms and with all modalities laid out on Wednesday in Bengaluru."

Making it clear that he was not going back on his promise, Kumaraswamy, admitting that he had made the promise of announcing loan waiver with in 24 hours after coming to power, however, said that he had sought some time to work out the modalities with his coalition partner Congress.

Pointing out that he has his own limitations, the CM reiterated that he is committed to farm loan waiver or else he will retire from politics.

The BJP had called for 'Voluntary Karnataka Bandh' on Monday demanding farm loan waiver as promised by Kumaraswamy in the JD(S) election manifesto.

Meanwhile, in Bengaluru, State BJP Chief and Opposition leader B.S. Yeddyurappa (BSY), giving an ultimatum to the Chief Minister, said that the party will wait for a week and work on strategies to launch a Statewide agitation for the cause of the farming community.

H.D. Deve Gowda defends son's 'at mercy of Congress' remark

Deve Gowda

Bengaluru, May 29 (KMS& DM)- A day after CM H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) said that he was obligated to the Congress, his father and JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda yesterday defended his son's remark that he (HDK) was at the mercy of Congress.

Speaking to press persons here, Deve Gowda came out in support of his son HDK who on Sunday said that he was indebted to the Congress and not to the people of Karnataka.

Pointing out that the JD(S) had only 37 MLAs and as such no unilateral decisions can be taken in the coalition Government, Deve Gowda said that the JD(S) has to consult its coalition partner, the Congress, while taking major announcements and policy decisions.

Their Democracy ain't like ours

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

The JD-S being a family party, internal squabbles may not give much scope for disrupters. But who knows. The patriarch is looking forward to becoming Prime Minister. Two grandsons, with neither maturity nor any official position whatever, have been giving interviews on policy matters.

Democracy in India is entertaining, except that its disruptive side makes the entertainment not enjoyable. In mature democracies, parties fight it out at election time, then settle down to governance. Even when an unpopular leader gets elected, the system allows him to run his course. In our country the system never gets a chance because political plotters never stop plotting. The moment one party wins, other parties begin manipulations to bring it down. The result is that we are for ever in a combative electioneering mindset. We keep moving from fight to fight. No respite ever. No governance ever.

America is a good case to study because in recent years it has had some really bad Presidents, and yet the system held on. People started showing their disapproval of the leadership openly during the Vietnam war. It was the most obnoxious war America ever fought and the American people rose against the unacceptable levels of American casualties and the equally unacceptable use of fire bombs and chemicals to destroy Vietnam's flora and fauna. People's protests began with the Kennedy-Johnson years and reached a climax during Richard Nixon's Presidency. One of the most disliked Presidents in US history, Nixon was too drunk and too megalomaniacal to pay heed to public opinion. Nonetheless he would have completed his term but for an illegality in a different arena: The Watergate spying. He quit on his own to escape impeachment.

George Bush was just as disliked as Nixon -- no mean achievement. He led America into a war on the basis of a lie. Saddam Hussein had no weapons of mass destruction as Bush claimed. And he knew that. Yet he unleashed a war of mass destruction that led to catastrophes like the birth of the Islamic State; a nation was felled and a civilisation knocked off balance. Saddam Hussein was tried for war crimes. Bigger crimes against humanity were committed by Bush, but he went on to joyful retirement in his ranch where he held self-proclaimed conversations with Jesus Christ. Miraculously Jesus Christ survived.

The improvident George Bush completed his term, as will the insufferable Donald Trump because American democracy is disciplined. British democracy showed its class when David Cameron resigned in mid 2016; six years in office, he was still going strong. He had wanted Britain to stay in the European Union. Rather than take decisions unilaterally, he decided to go for people's approval. In the referendum that followed, people voted for Britain's exit from EU, Brexit. The Prime Minister resigned. And resignation meant resignation. He was only 50, but has made no attempt to manoeuvre his way back or influence events.

In India no politician ever gives up, whatever his age. If you are defeated in an election, you never accept you are defeated. Either you join hands with other groups and grab power (as the Congress did in Karnataka and the BJP did in Goa, Meghalaya and Manipur), or you go into permanent sabotage mode. BJP leader Sriramulu warned the Kumaraswamy Government: "BJP won't let you sleep." This is the same leader who was identified with the Bellary Mafia. The party has threatened State-wide bundhs.

Party boss Amit Shah is full of righteous indignation. According to him the BJP had won "people's mandate" by emerging the largest single party. He is morally outraged that the people's mandate was sabotaged by the Congress and the JD-S. He didn't say a word about the other States where the people's mandate was successfully undermined by the BJP. Nor did he say that his idea of people's mandate was based on the wrong arithmetic. The BJP's vote share was 36.2 percent while the Congress (38 percent) and JD-S (18.3 percent) together had the backing of more than 56 percent of the State's voters. Selective arithmetic, like selective morality, is the badge of Indian politics.

Horse-trading is set to start in full swing after Cabinet appointments are completed when, hopefully for the BJP, there will be some Congress-JDS MLAs unhappy about not getting Ministership. The extent to which the Vokkaliga Chief Minister can satisfy the Lingayat hopefuls is another angle the horse-traders will be exploring. The JD-S being a family party, internal squabbles may not give much scope for disrupters. But who knows. The patriarch is looking forward to becoming Prime Minister. Two grandsons, with neither maturity nor any official position whatever, have been giving interviews on policy matters.

The field is open, horses like galloping, money is aplenty — and the worst have every chance to win.

Mysore University cancels entrance test for foreign students

Steps to improve student intake as numbers dwindle

Mysuru, May 29 (NNN)-The century-old University of Mysore at one time boasted one of the highest strength of foreign students studying in the University. However, from a strength of as high as 1,300 to 1,400 ten years ago (2008) from nearly 65 countries, the numbers have come down to just 765 this year. The reason is the entrance test introduced in 2014 which led to drastic reduction in admissions.

The foreign students had to write an entrance test before seeking admissions for PG courses. The test would be held in June and it would be difficult for them to write the test as they could not get visas on time. After writing the test and getting the study certificate by July end or August, the classes would have already commenced and the foreign students would face attendance shortage.

"This led to many students leaving the course in the first semester itself. Hence, we decided that we will cancel the entrance test for foreign students," said Prof. H.R. Janardhana, Director, International Centre, speaking to Star of Mysore.

Instead, an Equivalent Committee has been set up where all the Deans of Faculty including the Vice-Chancellor will declare the eligibility for students as early as February. A provisional admission is made and then the students will report to the Admission Committee in the respective Departments where they have got admissions with their original visa, marks card and they will be given provisional admission in the month of May or June itself.

"Thus the students can start attending the classes from the beginning of the academic year and write the first semester exam in December. However, it must also be stressed that there is no entrance test for Undergraduate students," he said.

Once the entrance test is done away with, the foreign students with this new admission process can apply in advance without any hassles. "This was what was happening earlier and that was the reason why there were so many foreign students in our University in the past," said Prof. Janardhana.

The foreign students are all admitted under the 'B' scheme which is payment seat and this generated funds for the University. However, the declining numbers has been a cause for concern, he added.

"The reason why foreign students want to study in our University is because of the standards of teaching and research and this is exactly what the Committee which made a presentation in Delhi for Institution of Eminence status told the University Grants Commission (UGC). If we get the status, our University will get Rs.1,000 crore grant," he said.

The University has a tie-up with Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR) and from here every year nearly 300 students from SAARC and other third world countries are admitted and they do not have to write any entrance test.

"This year nearly 400 students have become 'eligible' to seek admissions and hopefully the number will go up to 1,100 - 1,300 including the nearly 765 foreign students from 65 countries already studying here," said Prof. Janardhana.

Shortage of guides

However, one major issue the University of Mysore is facing is the shortage of guides for Ph.D students. Even though foreign students with scholarship apply for Ph.D programme, because of shortage of guides, the students move to other Universities, he said.

Each Professor can guide eight students out of whom two are foreign students. Since there is only 20 per cent permanent faculty in the University and the Guest Faculty cannot be guides, the only solution is to appoint at least 300 faculty for various Departments immediately, opined Prof. Janardhana.

"The foreign students had to write an entrance test before seeking admissions for PG courses. The test would be held in June and it would be difficult for them to write the test as they could not get visas on time. After writing the test and getting the study certificate by July end or August, the classes would have already commenced and the foreign students would face attendance shortage. This led to many students leaving the course in the first semester itself. Hence, we decided that we will cancel the entrance test for foreign students."

Hostel stay for foreign scholarship students must

The foreign students selected by ICCR, who come on scholarships from now on should compulsorily stay in hostels, according to a direction from Government of India. The reason that has been cited is to see that they do not go wayward.

"The foreign students come on fellowships and most of them do get a house rent allowance of Rs.4,500 per month. But since the new rule has been enforced the students who get scholarships have now to stay in hostels and they have to pay the hostel rent out of the rent allowance they get. We do have Vishwamanava International Students Hostel in Saraswathipuram near the Fire Brigade where the students can be accommodated. Another international hostel has come up in Kuvempunagar on Sahukar Chennaiah Road, where the NSS Hostel of University of Mysore is also located," Prof. H.R. Janardhana, Director, International Centre, said.

The main problem for foreign students is the food and hence a centralised kitchen is provided where they can cook their own food. Nearly 100 students can be accommodated in these two hostels. The remaining 200 students who study in other colleges like Vidyavardhaka and JSS Law College and a few others have hostel accommodation facilities, he added.

GTD defends JD(S) decision to form Government with Congress

JD(S) MLA G.T. Devegowda addressing a press meet at a hotel in city this morning as (from left) MLA S.R. Mahesh, Prof. K.S. Rangappa, MLA A. H. Vishwanath and JD(S) leader Abdulla look on.

Mysuru, May 29 (MTY&DM)- Defending his party's decision to form the government with Congress in the backdrop of a hung verdict in the Assembly polls, Chamundeshwari JD(S) MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD) said that both the parties had come together to keep the BJP out of power.

Addressing a press meet at a private hotel here this morning, GTD said that although the JD(S) and Congress waged a bitter battle in the run up to the polls, the JD(S) was quick to join hands with the Congress post results, in order to keep 'communal' BJP out of power and thus maintain the JD(S) party's secular credentials.

Referring to farm loan waiver issue, the MLA said that Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy was working out modalities to ensure a hassle-free implementation and the announcement will be made within a few days.

Replying to a question on Cabinet formation, the JD(S) MLA said that the coalition partners Congress and JD(S) were working overtime on the matter and the Cabinet will be in place in a couple of days.

Lashing out at State BJP Chief B.S. Yeddyurappa for calling a State bandh on Monday in haste, Devegowda said the bandh served no purpose for the BJP, as the people were well aware that CM Kumaraswamy cannot announce loan waiver immediately after coming to power and working out the modalities will take sometime.

Pointing out that he has appealed HDK to give more representation to Mysuru region in the Cabinet, GTD thanked the voters, party workers, leaders and members of the public who supported the JD(S) in the Assembly polls.

JD(S) MLAs A. H. Vishwanath (Hunsur), K. Mahadevu (Periyapatna) and S.R. Mahesh (KR Nagar), City JD(S) President K.T. Cheluvegowda, District President Narasimhamurthy, leaders Prof. K.S. Rangappa, K.V. Mallesh, Abdulla, Dayanandamurthy and others were present.

Continuing his remarks, Lulla said that B.M. Habitat Mall had been charging parking fee since 2011 and the charges are Rs. 20 for two-wheelers and Rs. 40 for four-wheelers up to 3 hours which has not been hiked at all.

"We continue to collect parking fee based on HC stay order and till the matter is finally settled in Court, MCC should stop creating this confusion," he said.

Adding to what Lulla had mentioned, the Manager of Mall of Mysore C.P. Medappa said, "The Municipal Corporation Rules explicitly state that every commercial establishment has to provide underground or cellar parking and there is no law which says that parking fees cannot be collected. We have to collect it for the maintenance of the parking place, providing security to the vehicles and most importantly, to see that the parking place is not misused."

Medappa further stated that as Mall of Mysore was close to the Race Course its parking lot was being misused by the race-goers and others by parking their vehicles free of cost which inconvenienced the Mall's customers but once it was made paid parking this menace stopped.

MCC Commissioner reacts

MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesh, reacting to the statements of the Mall owners, told SOM that he was aware of the stay order by the High Court regarding paying of parking fee in Malls. "I have asked the Joint Director, Town Planning of MCC to provide the feedback to the advocates representing the MCC in the High Court so that they can present the case properly," and added saying "We will abide by the decision of the High Court whatever the outcome."

Free parking remains at Forum Centre City

While other Malls are charging parking fee, the Forum Centre City Mall is not charging any parking fee, according to Khuteja Afzal, Sr. Executive, Marketing and Communication, Forum Centre City Mall. However, as a precautionary measure, the Forum Mall issues token slips to vehicle owners before availing the parking facility and collects it back without any parking fee when they leave the Mall.

Audience hitched onto a state of bliss

On 20th May 2018, at Veene Seshanna Bhavana, Ganabharathi, Mysuru, Articulate Festival saw the 24th edition where four classical dance segments were lined up for the evening that saw two duet presentation in Bharatanatyam, solo artistes in Kathak and Kuchipudi.

Shwetha K. Purohit and Sindhu K. Purohit, disciples of Karnataka Kala Tilaka Guru Radha Sridhar, danced into the hearts of the audience through their crisp, clear and confident Bharatanatyam performance, both individually and as duet, extremely complementing each other in every dance stance.

The sisters presented two dance numbers from their Bharatanatyam repertoire, one a Kruthi of Sri Duraiswami Aiyyer and another of Sri Udumalai Pettai Narayana Kavi, while the first was in Raga Pharaz the other was in Ragamalika and both in adi tala. The chosen first was on Shiva and the second was in praise of Lord Vishnu.

In the composition "Aadenamma," ecstatic Parvathi describes the mystifying looks of Shiva and his dance and savours the Nine rasas that awaken in her, as she is enraptured by the smiles of her Lord, the killer of Tripurasura. The mother joins her divine consort in that blissful dance.

The second composition "Paalkadal" is from the perspective of a devotee of Vishnu. The Lord Reclining on the serpent, attended by Laxmi herself and floating on the waves of the ocean of milk, Lord is sought for protection and grant of wisdom and means to reach His lotus feet. In the delineation of the poem, the dancer runs through the select ten avatars of Lord Vishnu.

Akhila Deepak, trained Under Karnataka Kalasri Guru Lakshmi Rajamani, was just amazing. She chose to present a Krishna Shabdam and a Tarangam, both based in Mohana raga and adi tala. Krishna Shabdam dominated by abhinaya, that was sassy, tarangam was acrobatically nrutta. Akhila Deepak reflected so perfectly the unabashed invitations a gopi was extending to krishna for a amorous rendezvous interspersed with nrutta that complimented the sahithya. In the second number of her Kuchipudi presentation, while perched on the rim of a brass plate, balancing a water pot on her head, dexterously making rhythmic movements, she esoterically conveyed the philosophical significance that: "We are all bound to this earth (the brass plate under the feet) and we carry heavy responsibilities on our head (signified by the water pot, from which not a drop is supposed to spill). But just as she moves joyously in rhythm, her mind in glorious contemplation of God, she says, so too should life be lived, with grace, energy and good purpose.

Amita Mathur trained in Kathak under Guru Nirupama Rajendra and furthered her art under various stalwarts of the art form, bestowed with all that is necessary for an artiste to capture the attention of the audience and linger long in their minds long after the concert closes.

Amita began with a Krishna Vandana in Teen Taal that meandered languorously between vilambit Laya and drut Laya in a highly, stylized Kathak. In the vandana, Amitha described the beautiful form of Krishna and demonstrated his leelas so subtle that the vision was dreamy and ethereal. The second of her presentation was "Rasa" celebrating kathak while exploring the space to the music, the dancer claimed this was Kathak in its inert form, but with different treatment. Her Teen Taal Tarana in raag Yaman was very very short but yet crisp.

Guru Dr. Sanjay Shantaram's disciples Anjali Srikant Iyengar and Neethu Anand's duet Bharatanatyam performance was a befitting finale number that the audience left the hall with these enactments playing in their delirium. While the chosen first, eulogised the virility and vibrancy of Lord Shiva, the second meditatively dweled on the serene and composed Sri Rama. Apart from statuesque poses that the Jathis were concluded or connected through, being highly exciting to watch, the enfoldment of stories was equally exhilarating. Be it the fleeting enactment of Shiva's protection of Markandey when he was fated to be taken away by the Lord of death in the Bhatiyar-Palini raga based and Adi tala set composition "Parshwapathe Shambho", or in the Yaman Kalyani raga, Adi tala composition "Rama Rama Endu" penned by Dr. Sanjay Shantaram himself, the pain Sri Rama endured while in search of Seeta and his interaction with Shabari, Jatayu before he faced Ravana only to vanquish him, the sancharis were executed brilliantly by both the artistes.

Festival Director Mysore B Nagaraj invited the audience to experience the same in the coming festival when he would present senior stalwarts Guru Shama Bhate, Guru Deepak Mazumdar and Padma Shri Ranjana Gouhar in Kathak, Bharatanatyam and Odissi through Satvik abhinaya on June 17. The audience fixed a cultural tryst for that date.

The finish in the top half means that Anand will get an extra white — five white against four black games in what is known as the strongest tournament of the year.

To start the proceedings, Anand will be in white against Levon Aronian of Armenia in the opening round. Wesley So of US came up with a startling performance to win Blitz on 6 points out of a possible nine rounds.

Hikaru Nakamura of US and Anand are tied for the second spot, a half point behind, while rating favourite and world champion Magnus Carlsen ended on fourth spot solely on five points.

Shakhriyar Mamedyarov of Azerbaijan benefited from a superior tie-break to finish on fifth spot with 4.5 points. Maxime Vachier-Lagrave of France and Fabiano Caruana of the US are tied for the fifth spot but will play an extra black as they were relegated to the second half in the final standing.

Anand came up with a fine all-round display winning three, drawing five and losing one game in all. The lone loss came against Caruana while Vachier-Lagrave, Aronian and Ding Liren of China were on the receiving end against multiple-time world champion across formats.

French Open: Wawrinka crashes out in first round, Djokovic progresses

Roland Garros, May 29- Former French Open champion Stan Wawrinka continued to struggle with form and fitness as he was dumped out in the first round by Guillermo Garcia-Lopez on Monday, a defeat which will send his world ranking plummeting, but Novak Djokovic cruised through in straight sets.

Wawrinka, who lost to Rafael Nadal in last year's final and won the 2015 title, was beaten in a five-set thriller 6-2, 3-6, 4-6, 7-6 (7/5), 6-3 by the Spanish world number 67 on Court Suzanne Lenglen.

The 33-year-old has been plagued by a knee injury and arrived at Roland Garros having won just one match on clay in Geneva last week, his first event in three months.

Serbian star Novak Djokovic opened his French Open campaign with a comfortable 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 victory over Brazilian Rogerio Dutra Silva on Monday.

The 12-time Grand Slam winner was well below his best on Court Philippe Chatrier, though, and dropped serve three times against the world number 134 Dutra Silva.

Djokovic, whose form has been steadily improving since returning from a right elbow injury earlier this year, was still far too good for his opponent and will next play qualifier Jaume Munar tomorrow at 2.30 pm (IST).

Former world number one Victoria Azarenka's return to Grand Slam tennis lasted just two sets as Belarusian slumped to a 7-5, 7-5 loss to Katerina Siniakova. Azarenka, who missed much of last season after being embroiled in a custody battle over her son, was broken to love in the 12th games of each set to be dumped out by the Czech world number 57.

Petra Kvitova also found life hard, but the two-time Wimbledon champion fought back from a set down to beat Paraguay's Veronica Cepede Royg 3-6, 6-1, 7-5 on Court Philippe Chatrier.

RAIN HALTS NADAL'S PROGRESS

R. Nadal was leading 6-4, 6-3, 0-3 when rain interrupted the proceedings in his first round men's singles tie played against S.Bolelli of Italy. R. Gasquet beat A. Seppi 6-0, 6-2, 6-0 in another first round match.
